

Suggested Interview Questions for Craig Harline author of Way Below the Angels: The Pretty Clearly Troubled but Not Even Close to Tragic Confessions of a Real Live Mormon Missionary (Wm. B. Eerdmans Publishing Co., $22.00 hardcover, August 15, 2014).

1. How did the heroic Mormon missionary narrative you grew up with influence your expectations for your mission?
2. How did a recurring nightmare spur you to write Way Below the Angels?
3. What does missionary training entail?
4. What's up with the white shirts and ties?
5. What did you think of the challenge of converting people in a heavily Catholic country?
6. Your efforts to convert people met with little success. Rather, you say the Belgianlanders converted you. How so?
7. What were some of the more memorable responses to your proselytizing efforts?
8. Your time in Belgium was often miserable, yet you came to love the country. What changed?
9. How did the missionary experience, the good and the awful parts, shape you?
10. Your children also went on missions. What advice did you give them?
11. How did you handle the constant rejection - you only half-jokingly estimate you were rejected 6,700 times during your two years in Belgium.

For an interview with Craig Harline, please contact Kelly Hughes, 312-280-8126 or kelly@dechanthughes.com.